

Legislative Report- 1/27/2013

Please find below this week's legislative report. Clearly things are "heating up" and transportation funding legislation is front and center at the General Assembly.

In addition to the excellent and comprehensive report by Myles below, you should also know that this past week we testified against HB 2250 which created an exemption from the provisions of the Miss Utility law. As a result the bill was killed in committee. (The SCC supported our objections to the bill but cannot proactively lobby at the session.)

Bitterness and Bile in the Senate:

In a surprise move, the Senate leadership amended a routine House bill that provided for technical changes to the decennial redistricting plan for the House districts. The Senate amendment, offered by Senator John Watkins (R-Powhatan) completely redrew many of the Senate Districts. Senator Watkins' amendment: 1) Creates a new majority minority district; 2) Strengthens a number of Republican incumbents whose districts were competitive under the original redistricting plan authored by the Democrats three years ago; and 3) Weakens several Democrat incumbents. The Republicans move is a bold attempt to strengthen their hold on the evenly divided 20-20 chamber in the coming election cycle and beyond. The amendment and the bill passed strictly along party lines (one of the Senate Democrats was absent due to his attendance at the presidential inauguration). The Senator's absence was notable given the fact that Lieutenant Governor Bill Bolling, who presides over the Senate, said that if he had the ability to break a tie on this matter, he would have voted against the Republican plan.

The Senate Democrats reaction to the maneuver was swift. Democratic Leader Dick Saslaw (D-Fairfax County) proclaimed that the Governor's transportation package (along with any other major policy initiative) was dead unless or until the Governor or the House of Delegates rejected the Senate Republicans redistricting plan. As of now, the bill is back before the House of Delegates. There is a question as to whether the Speaker of the House will rule the Senate amendment to the House bill germane to the original purpose of the bill (if the Speaker rules the amendment germane, the House will likely pass the amended bill and send it to the Governor for his consideration. If the Speaker rules the amendment not germane, the bill dies, and along with it, the Senate Republicans' redistricting efforts). Governor McDonnell has backed away from the Senate Republicans' plan, reiterating his administration's focus on both transportation funding and education reform. A rejection of the Senate redistricting plan by either the House or the Governor could set off an intraparty war that could be costly for the Republicans both from a political and policy perspective.

Regardless of the fate of the redistricting plan, the impact of the actions taken by Senate Republicans will continue to have profound and far reaching consequences. The relationship between Senate Republicans and Democrats is so fractured, it is questionable whether there will be an ability to come together on a funding package for transportation.

Transportation Funding:

The events that transpired this past week in the Senate present an obvious threat to Governor McDonnell's Road to the Future transportation funding package. As expected, the only transportation funding bill under active consideration by the House of Delegates is Speaker Howell's HB 2313, which is the Governor's transportation package. The dozen or so funding bills offered by both House Democrats and Republicans were either incorporated into HB 2312, or were laid on the table in House Finance (while the bills that have been tabled can theoretically be taken off the table and considered by the House Finance Committee, that scenario remains unlikely). The House Finance Committee will act on HB 2313 this week. It is expected that the measure will have enough support among members of the Republican Caucus (though some conservatives will oppose the measure because they view the bill as a tax increase) to clear both Committee and the full House of Delegates. Amendments to the bill are likely, including the possibility that the increase in the registration fee may be removed to make the package more palatable to the chamber's conservative members.

The prospects for SB 1355, patroned by Senate Transportation Chairman Steve Newman (R-Lynchburg), is much more of question. SB 1355 is the companion to HB 2312. The Senate Transportation Committee re-referred SB 1355 to the Senate Finance Committee on a 8-6 party line vote. However, there are several transportation funding bills awaiting action by the Senate Finance Committee. Among the bills still under consideration are SB 717, sponsored by Senator John Watkins and SB 1328 patroned by Senator Frank Wagner (R-Virginia Beach). Either of these measures could be an alternative vehicle for the Senate to use to move the transportation funding debate forward. However, both Governor McDonnell and the House Republican leadership have made it clear privately that any package that strays significantly from the parameters set forth in HB 2312 and SB 1355 would stand very little chance of passage.

Legislation of Interest:

EZ Pass Transponder Fees:

HB 1302 sponsored by Delegate Loupassi (R-Henrico) would have prevented VDOT from charging monthly fees for EZ Pass transponders. After a spirited debate before the House Transportation Committee, the Committee voted 11-9 to send the bill to the Joint Commission on Transportation Accountability for further review and study in 2013.

Mechanics Lien:

Delegate Bob Purkey's (R-Virginia Beach) mechanics lien bill (HB 1436), which requires any person intending to perfect a mechanics' lien against a one-family or two-family residential dwelling unit to send the mechanics' lien agent designated on the building permit, received a thorough hearing before the House Civil Law Subcommittee. At the end of the hearing, the members of Committee refused to make a motion on the bill. The lack of a motion from the committee members effectively killed the measure for the year.

Delegate Scott Surovell (D-Fairfax County) also has a mechanics lien bill that is of potential concern to VUHCC members. HB 1913 provides that a person who is not a licensed contractor may not claim a mechanic's lien if a valid contractor's license or certificate was required by law for the labor performed or materials furnished. The bill also requires that a person include on the memorandum for a mechanic's lien his license or certificate number. Since the bill allows for the possibility that a lien could be invalidated if a contractor inadvertently makes a mistake regarding either his license or certificate number, VUHCC is seeking an amendment to protect contractors from such a circumstance. The patron has agreed to include the amendment when the bill is taken up by the full Courts of Justice Committee this week.

Procurement:

One of the most significant procurement bills of the session is HB 2079 sponsored by the Chairman of the General Laws Committee, Chris Jones (R-Suffolk). The bill, which Delegate Jones is carrying for the Governor, would reorganize the definitions of competitive sealed bidding and competitive negotiation, and would also add a definition of job order contracting. The bill is making its way through the General Laws Committee, and should be acted upon this week by the full committee.

Restrictions on Cell Phones and Texting:

After more than an hour of discussion and debate in committee Delegate Ben Cline's (R-Rockbridge County) HB 1360, which provides that driving while using a handheld communications device for something other than verbal communication constitutes driving a motor vehicle that is not under proper control, punishable as reckless driving was rolled into HB 1907 patroned by Delegate Richard Anderson (R-Prince William County). HB 1907. There remain a number of questions associated with these texting/cell phone bills. The most prickly part of the combined bill was the section making use of a handheld communications device, while committing another major violation, a reckless driving offense. The two sections to make texting while driving a primary offense and to increase the penalty for such offense didn't seem to cause near as much heartburn. The full Courts of Justice Committee will continue to work on this issue over the coming week.
